the impact of air pollution. More recently, we place high priority on reducing carbon and other emissions from vehicles that worsen air quality and contribute to climate change. We support efforts to attain reductions of greenhouse gases in the Bay Area to meet the targets that have been established.

By promoting the use of alternative commute modes, this Commuter Benefits Program will decrease drive-alone commute trips to Bay Area worksites, thereby reducing traffic congestion, improving the speed of traffic flow during peak commute periods, thus reducing emissions of greenhouse gases (GHGs) and criteria air pollutants.

The Program was developed through a commendable process, which included substantial outreach to businesses and public hearings around the Bay Area.

The pilot program will produce a report to the Legislature, including measurable results from the as to the extent to which the intended objectives of reduced emissions of air pollutants, decreased traffic congestion, and greenhouse gases were achieved.

Join the League in telling Congress that everybody counts and to protect all voters' right to the ballot box.

Today's barriers to the ballot might look different than they did when the League was founded 94 years ago, but they remain threats to our democracy all the same. Present-day voter suppression measures were bolstered last summer when the U.S. Supreme Court in Shelby v. Holder gutted a key provision of the pivotal Voting Rights Act (VRA) of 1965.

Long hailed as the "crown jewel of the Civil Rights Movement," the VRA was effectively used for decades to strike down attempts to restrict minority voters. As soon as the Supreme Court released its ruling, states were free to move forward with suppressive voting measures, including those that had previously been barred as racially discriminatory under the Voting Rights Act. Months later, the fallout from the Supreme Court's decision continues.

Like the dedicated suffragists who helped form the League of Women Voters 94 years ago, today's League members will not be silent in the face of attempts to weaken our democracy and block access to the polls. Since June, the League has joined with sister voting rights advocates in pushing Congress to stop the flood of voter suppression and repair the Voting Rights Act.
